All Ofus is in trouble! His very educated self is tired.

Even though he has a PH.D, MD, JD, and an MBA. He is unable to find free time to eat food while doing research and teaching.

Eventually he runs into Jeff Bezos, Founder of Amazon,

Jeff and All have a nice discussion about how tired he is, and Jeff tells him about a nifty new app that he can use to get food delivered. As Jeff Bezos comes to UofSC often he is a huge fan of the app.

All Ofus now is able to sustain himself on ramen and pizza

He can now use the app to buy foods and have them delivered to his lab. This allows him to not starve to death.

All Ofus has now lost all funding to gambling and is broke!

Now he is in serious trouble! What can he do without any funding?

All Ofus gets a new job.

He starts using the App so that he can make some money to make up for his crimes. Delivery has never been easier!

Eventually All Ofus is able to earn enough money to complete his research!

After a few hundred years, of course.

Alway tired! Shandra wonder for way to get out of the house. She was always a stay at home mom. She often wonder for a way to get away from her kids.

One day some told of a way to get away from her kids and make some extra money. Along with exercise. She was told to look at this app.

This app allowed her to pick up order for people. Similar to Grubhub but completely different. This app would finally allow her to work away from her children and make money. These thing were her main goal after all.

Using this app it was also possible to make friends. She used this to her advantage seeing as before she never had very many friends. To her making a friend was not necessary since her children alway were in the way of that.

Make New Friends

Overall Shandra was really happy with the App and the money she was making coming in at a whopping 10$ dollars at the end of the week. That was more than she ever made.

With all of her work she is now able to buy herself a McChicken Combo from McDonald's and eat it with her new friends named Ball.

Bob runs into a money struggle.

While Bob is running his lemonade stand at USC he starts to realize that his money situation is very lackluster.

Bob gets advice from a student customer.

Bob meets a student Zack that tells him about this app where anyone close to Russell House can grab an order from a food place then take it to people on campus.

Bob gives this app a try, while walking back to his lemonade stand.

Bob likes this app as an extra source of money.

He decides to try ordering food as well after getting his bonus money. He also meets a fellow student using the app to deliver food.
Bob loves this app!

Bob uses the app to order food and deliver food when he needs the extra money for his lemonade stand! He is now in an unfortunate bind with money due to him using it all on food, so he goes back to delivering orders.

On a warm Summers day a young boy named Zachary was born.

As he grew up his parents were always very busy working. They never had much time to play with him

In fact they didn't even have enough time to pick up food. So they would use the amazing app

As he got older he would use the amazing app to pick up other peoples food when he went to pick up his families food. Making himself some pocket change/

Now much like his parent he's to busy with school to pick up food, so what does he do? Use the great app hes grown up with.
